Yes

Q8 Is there anything that you would like to tell landowners about you and/or your farming goals that the above questions missed?

We are interested in succession farming, we understand that the average age of farmers in America is 60. Also, farmland is being gobbled up and houses being spit out. We want to see farms stay farms. We have been entrepreneurs and unconventional educators for 25 years, it would be our dream to have a farm where we could educate people on lost skills, sustainable living, permaculture; modern day homesteading all while living within not fighting against nature.

Q9 If you are unable to attend in person, please let us know and we will share your information with the attendees. You will receive attendee information via email after the conference.

I am unable to attend, but please share my information with attendees
